A top-down, high-angle photograph of a minimalist still life. The scene is set on a bright white surface. In the upper left, a clear glass bottle of Roberto Cavalli vodka is partially visible, with its gold-colored cap. A long, slender, gold-colored bar spoon with a textured, beaded pattern along its length lies diagonally across the center. To the right, a small, round, clear glass contains a drink with ice cubes and a sprig of fresh rosemary. Scattered around these items are numerous small, delicate purple flowers and petals. In the upper right corner, a portion of a gold-colored object, possibly a perfume bottle or a decorative vessel, is visible. The lighting is soft and even, creating subtle shadows and highlighting the textures of the glass, metal, and organic elements.
